

Ex-Crown Prince Says He's Keeping "Hands Off" Politics In Germany

(Copyright, 1923, By The United Press)
(Copyright, 1923, By The United Press)
OELS, SILESIA, November 14.—(By The United Press)—Frederick Wilhelm, former crown prince of Germany, declared today he is abstaining from having anything to do with the politics of his fatherland.
In an interview granted the United Press, his first authorized utterance since his return from five years' exile in Holland, the heir to the throne declared that he was following a policy of keeping "hands off" the turbulent political situation with its monarchist and communist plots and counter plots.
"I am opening the interview, the former crown prince said.
"Please don't ask me about politics. Don't press me for political utterances."
The next moment, however, he opened up a lively fire of questions of his own relative to affairs of state throughout the world, asking them with all the enthusiasm of a news-hungry reporter.
"How about the British election?" he demanded eagerly.
"Has Lloyd George a chance to win the premiership again? I like to know," he added.
"After five years in Holland, isolated from my own folks, I have lost direct touch with the world," he said, explaining his lack of information.
"I have nothing but the warmest praise for my treatment in Holland," he remarked, and then he looked around the room; smiled and remarked, "But there's no place like home."
As he spoke, two of his children entered the chamber and rushed into his arms. He gathered them in with a look of paternal pride.

GERMANY PLANS TO HAND THE RHINELAND TO THE FRENCH

(By J. W. T. MASON)
(Written For The United Press)
Berlin, officially denies the report that an autonomous government is to be set up in the Rhineland.
The precise opposite course of action has been decided upon by the German government, which has decided to abolish German government in the Rhine area entirely and so challenge France to enter the territory and try to break up Germany.
The desperate straits to which the German people have been driven by France's pressure are thus for the first time publicly revealed.
For Stresemann, knowing the essential purpose of Poincare is to extinguish Germany as a political unit, has now invited the French to go to the uttermost limit in seeking its accomplishment.
German authority over the Rhineland is to be withdrawn completely and France is defied to incorporate the Rhine district within the French Republic.
This new policy of Stresemann will probably make the French very cautious.
Poincare is likely to beware of the Germans bearing a gift of the Rhine.
To Paris, nevertheless, the situation cannot remain as it is now. Poincare must eventually declare himself one way or the other.
Either he must accept the Rhine in the face of critical world opinion and try to administer the government affairs with all the possibility of defeat, or he must definitely abandon the idea of destroying Germany.
The reparations problem will be nearer settlement whichever horn of the dilemma he chooses.

Attempting To Corner Eggs

CHICAGO, November 14.—(By The Associated Press)—A group of Chicago dealers are attempting to corner the egg market and create an artificial shortage that will boost prices to $1 a dozen.
Seven dealers, alleged to have combined, expect to make $9,000,000 before Christmas with "dollar eggs," according to Ray Lane, former attorney for the committee.
"With a daily consumption of 10,000 cases, there now is enough on hand to do for the next four months without any receipts from the farmers," says Mr. Rushkewicz. "The eggs now on sale were placed in storage last spring at from 20 to 25 cents a dozen."
Speculators are buying up shipments as fast as they arrive and placing them in storage to create a shortage.
Dealers are charged with "moon shining" eggs, selling as "strictly fresh" eggs that have been in storage since spring. In order to prevent discovery of egg caches, dealers identify the eggs on warehouse receipts as "potatoes," the committee charges.
The only weapon the food board has is the housewife's boycott, according to Mr. Rushkewicz, who promises that a week's general abstinence from the use of eggs would release thousands of dozens of eggs held in storage with a resultant price decline.

'Izzy' Took Trip South; Wholesale Raids Made

NEW ORLEANS, La., November 14.—(By The Associated Press)—White prohibition agents are checking up the results of raids here and at Mobile, Ala., yesterday, "Izzy" Einstein, nationally known prohibition agent, whose work of the last few weeks culminated in evidence and information responsible for the issuance of forty-five search warrants for raids here and eighty-five at Mobile relates of his experiences.
Acting under orders from J. C. Tolson, chief of the general prohibition agents, Einstein and Peter Hogan, of New York, a former pugilist who assisted him, quietly slipped into New Orleans after they had spent three weeks in Mobile, registered at a local hotel under assumed names and set about their work.
"Izzy" and Hogan, who were in the city early one morning last week, wandered into a soft drink establishment on Royal street, Einstein said, and called for two glasses of beer. The bartender advised them not to drink beer at that hour but to take whiskey. "All right, then, give us two glasses of whiskey," "Izzy" said. "After that, while the prohibition agents called out with the evidence. The place was raided yesterday.
At one of the cabarets "Izzy" took a bartender from his pocket and struck up a jazz tune, while Hogan performed a buck and wing dance. Immediately drinks were served to everybody in the place, "Izzy" said. But Einstein, instead of drinking, poured the evidence through a special-made funnel and tube connection with a bottle he carried in an inside pocket.
Einstein said while he and Hogan were in Mobile they denuded the garb of longshoremen and worked as dock laborers and also disguised as fruit peddlers.
It was believed the raids here yesterday, which were conducted by the entire local prohibition force, assisted by agents from several other cities, resulted in the seizure of less than a gallon of liquor and wines. In fact, agents were found in twenty-five places, including taverns, cafes, night clubs, and other places, reports to headquarters show.
Einstein, it is said, has furnished the federal authorities with a long list of violators and the warrants issued yesterday were only forerunners of others to follow.
At Mobile, the prohibition raids resulted as much as 500 cases of imported whiskey, wines, brandies and cognacs, the officers report.

Forbes Brands Sawyer "Meddler"

WASHINGTON, November 14.—(By The Associated Press)—Charles R. Forbes, who for four and one-half hours yesterday, alternately struck back at his accusers and defended his official acts, was only half way through his defense of his administration as director of the Veterans Bureau with the assembling body of the senate investigating committee.
Forbes not only denied testimony of Brigadier General Charles E. Sawyer, personal friend and physician to President Harding, that he had been dismissed for insubordination to the executive, but attacked Dr. Sawyer as a "meddler" in the affairs of the bureau.
Moreover, the former director denied Dr. Sawyer's testimony that President Harding had been "indignant" about the sale of goods at the bureau's supply depot at Perryville, Md. He declared that Dr. Sawyer seemed to have a "hobby" against the sale and that efforts to have the president prevent disposition of the goods were insistent from several quarters.
The direct examination of Forbes by his counsel is expected to be concluded today and then the former director will be subject to the cross examination of counsel for members of the committee, which he invited in opening his testimony. This cross examination is expected to consume most if not all of tomorrow.

French May Seize Hamburg

PARIS, November 14.—(By The Associated Press)—The inter-allied council of ambassadors meeting today to consider the question of allied military control in Germany, and possibly the return of the German Crown Prince, was confronted with a serious situation. Germany's obstructionist tactics seem to have come to a head and in the view of the allies must take a stand or sidestep definitely.
The council may not be able to reach a decision until late this evening or even until tomorrow as the British instructions regarding the attitude to be taken by the London government toward Frederick Wilhelm are not likely to arrive before afternoon.
The occupation of Hamburg and important railroad centers east of the Rhine are spoken of in French circles as possible penalties for the prince's return. French officials realize that the British government in the throes of an election would dislike to commit the country to an extended naval or military operation, yet the government would cut a sorry figure before the voters, if it left here if the Hohenzollerns were allowed to regain possession of Germany without an attempt by the allies to interfere.
The allies are not in accord as to the proper course of action.

Klan Issue To Fore In Walton Case

OKLAHOMA CITY, OKLA., Nov. 14.—(By The Associated Press)—The Klan issue in the case of Governor J. C. Walton moved to the fore today.
"Taking occasion last night to deny the purported testimony of a former Klan official that he had subscribed to the oath and paid the initiation fee in the organization, the governor let it be known in a public statement that the matter probably would form an important part of his defense in the trial.
The Klan angle re-entered the situation yesterday when J. C. Walton's investigation committee made public the testimony of Dr. W. T. Tillis, cyclops of the Muskogee Klan, who was quoted as having said he administered the oath to the governor last February and collected the regular entrance fee of $10.
A move to expedite the governor's trial was seen by observers in the announcement by the house board of prosecution at yesterday's session that it would rest its case after evidence on thirteen of the twenty-two counts in the impeachment bill had been presented. It was said that the remaining nine articles probably would be taken up later.
The announcement came after testimony had been heard concerning financial collections made for Governor Walton during his campaign and after he became governor, and the executive's private banking affairs, including investments in local building and loan association stock.
Hearing of testimony in connection with the private financial transactions of the governor will be continued today.

It was learned here late last night at the semi-annual conference of the bishops of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

Bulgarian Exonerated

PRAGUE, CZECHOSLOVAKIA, November 14.—(By The Associated Press)—Alanus Nikoloff, 35-year-old Bulgarian, tried on the charge of assassinating Mr. Daskaloff, the Bulgarian ambassador in Prague on August 26 last, was acquitted today by a vote of 8 to 4 after the jury had been out 18 hours.
The supreme court has yet to pass upon the verdict and may reject it.
Nikoloff confessed to committing the crime, saying it was by order of the secret Macedonian organization to which he belonged, which also had placed three other ministers of Bulgaria on the death list. Mr. Daskaloff was ordered killed, the accused said, because he opposed the Macedonian separatist movement.

Woman Found Murdered At School

PHOENIX, ARIZONA, November 14.—(By The Associated Press)—The murder of Mrs. George Boudreau, of Elkhardt, Ind., whose body was found yesterday in the yard in the rear of the Monroe school, remains shrouded in mystery.
The body was found close to a presbytery annex to the school. Mrs. Boudreau's glasses and a torn hair net were found on the flat roof of the annex which is about forty feet from the ground. An outside stairway leads to the top of the building. Marks in the earth nearby indicated that the woman had struggled with her assailant.
The theory is advanced that he carried her to the roof of the annex, where the struggle continued. Whether Mrs. Boudreau jumped from the building in an effort to escape, or whether she was thrown from it, it has not been determined, police say. The body was badly battered and her clothing stained with blood and mud. A plain cuff link was picked up near the spot where the body was found.
Mrs. Boudreau came to Phoenix last July for her health. She was about 42 years old. She was returning from a dance hall late Monday night, where she was employed, when she was attacked.
The police say that an unidentified man, with whom Mrs. Boudreau refused to dance Monday night, is under surveillance.

Britain Don't Know Reason For Election

LONDON, November 14.—(By The Associated Press)—Probably the first question a foreigner would ask after reading today's editorial comment on the impending dissolution of parliament would be "Why is the country having an election?" Clearly nobody wants it.
This disinclination to take a poll of the electorate on the protection plan is manifested by all parties. The government's supporters reluctantly acquiesce, while their political opponents are disgusted and resentful. Some of the comments are vicious and Prime Minister Baldwin is charged variously with exemplified unbecoming trickiness and with playing with the decency of British public life.
The liberals, laborites and Socialists are very angry. The conservative newspapers give the premier full credit for honesty of intentions and commend him for risking his political career in obedience to the drivings of his conscience.
The government papers denounce alike liberal, free trade and the Socialists' capital levy. The liberals scorn alike protection and the levy. The Socialist labor paper refuses to be hoodwinked or tricked by either the old parties and thanks on the comprehensive policy of constructive reform to which its party is pledged.
Today's British press for and against the premier is probably not final, but thus far his newspaper supporters are in the minority. Two of three, neither liberal nor laborite, withhold full approbation, complaining of the difficulty in which the premier's decision has placed the electors.

Coolidge Back Of Mellon On Tax Cut

WASHINGTON, November 14.—President Coolidge stands squarely behind Secretary of the Treasury Mellon in his proposal that the American people as a whole be given through reduced taxes the benefit of economies practiced by the government.
Mr. Coolidge's whole philosophy is thrift. Talks he has had with public officials in the last two months have indicated that he cares far more about the way the dollars are spent than any other phase of present day problems.
Without intending it, incidentally, Mr. Mellon has stirred up the biggest political upheaval since Mr. Coolidge took the oath of office. Political Washington woke up today to find that "big game" from all parts of the country were pouring in commending Mr. Mellon for having proposed a tax revision. Although opinions may differ as to just what the method of revision will be, the general idea of revising the revenue laws seems to have struck a popular chord—at least that's the first impression. Now more than ever before are the officials of the administration anxious to hear from the country. They want to know whether a bonus for the able bodied ex-service men is desired. The administration is paying out half a billion dollars annually for the disabled soldiers and has pledged itself without limit to them, and now Congress members of Congress think taxes could be reduced and a bonus also undertaken for the able bodied ex-service men.

Laron Chewing Gum Company for infringement on a copyrighted gum package, according to an order of Charles B. Morrison, Federal master in chancery. Litigation has been in progress for some time.

Serum Test For Insanity

ATLANTA, GA., November 14.—(By The Associated Press)—An announcement that the serum test being used to determine whether E. Fox, charged with murder in connection with the shooting of W. S. Cohen, Ke Klux Klan attorney, is insane, is the latest development in the case.
Specialists are examining a specimen of the spinal fluid taken from Fox late yesterday. According to experts on mental disorders, the laboratory analysis will determine whether Fox is insane.
Indications are that the trial of Fox, set for December 12, will develop into a battle of alienists with authorities on mental disorders taking the stand for both the prosecution and defense.

Two Men Overcome By Gas Fumes

Harrison "Nip" Clifford, 714 Tenth street, and Robert Hamm, 720 Tenth street, had narrow escapes from being asphyxiated by gasoline fumes Tuesday afternoon while they were at work in a new gasoline storage tank being erected for Jacobs & Morgan, at Tenth and Court streets.

The timely presence of a boy and his hasty action in securing help probably saved the men from death. City firemen were called to assist in removing the men from the big tank.

As they worked on the interior of the tank, fumes were generated by evaporation from the inside along the upper part of the tank. When they began to work, the fumes gathered in the bottom of the tank, giving off fumes.

The two workers, despite growing difficulty in breathing, continued their work, hoping to get it finished at one stretch, but the fumes were too much, and giving a straining cry, Clifford toppled over, falling on his left side in the accumulated gasoline at the bottom of the tank. Hamm attempted to help him out, but was overcome himself being barely able to call feebly for help.

A small boy, playing on top of the tank, climbed down, using ropes to the two men, and they were dragged out by members of the Seventh street fire company which had been summoned. Chief Leedom was in charge of the rescue squad, and took with him a pump, which was not necessary, however, as the men quickly revived in fresh air. Clifford was for a time delirious, fighting to get back into the tank. He suffered severe blisters on his left side caused by the gasoline.

FOUR SHOTS FIRED AT MACHINE

A round of six shots from a revolver was emptied into the George H. Vogel touring car Monday night about 9 o'clock on Turkey creek, and it was fortunate that they did not wound any of the four passengers in the machine. Vogel, who lives at 1297 Gay street, was accompanied by John Newman, of Eleventh and Fifth streets, and two young women. Four of the shots penetrated the top of the machine, one entered the rear of the body of the car and the other passed a rear tire.

The local persons were en route home from a visit up Turkey creek where a large spot model touring car passed them going up Turkey creek. Vogel, dimmed the lights of his car and pulled to one side of the road, while the driver of the other machine did not dim his lights. As the machines passed two men in the other car reeled something at Vogel and his friends. Several minutes later Vogel heard a machine coming behind him, and looking backward discovered it was the same machine that passed them. Without a word of warning six shots rang out and four of them came bloughing through the top of the car. Instead of halting, Vogel stepped on the gas and did not stop miles from Turkey creek. Vogel says he was not armed.

Barber-Banker Sent To Four Years in Pen

BOSTON, November 14.—(By the Associated Press)—Joseph E. Marino, of Chicago, who rose from barber to banker and became involved in many financial difficulties in various parts of the country, was sentenced to four years in the federal penitentiary at Atlanta by Judge Morton in the federal district court today. There are now more than a score of cases on the docket for investigation, the most important of which are the killing of "Hence" Smith, horse trader, near Haverhill, on Oct. 1, by Elliott Stevens and the slaying of "Kor" Smokey Davis by William S. Herndon, New Boston Hotel clerk, a week ago.

Among the other cases to be probed are those of Mrs. Myrtle Gibbs and her mother, Mrs. Mary Ranner, of Front street, in connection with alleged shoplifting of merchandise from local stores.

Apply To Transfer Funds. Authority of the court to transfer funds is sought by the Trustees of two townships in petitions filed through Prosecuting Attorney S. Anselmi Skellton in Common Pleas court.

Plaintiff in her petition filed through Attorney E. G. Miller says she is threatened to kill her child and charges that he is a vulgar, familiar with the McKee woman, various times and places. The couple were married in September, 1921, and the decree was granted on the grounds of infidelity and neglect after the plaintiff told the court that Monk constantly associated with other women to the neglect of herself and their minor child. Custody of the child was awarded to plaintiff and Monk was ordered to pay her $7.50 a week for its support. The wife was represented by Attorneys Blair and Blair.

Hurry, son, they're waiting

Did you ever see a regular boy go tearing down the street on an errand he liked?

Just try to stop him.

We know a lot of people who start saving money. At first they are not like this boy at all, but more like a boy on his way to the wood shed for a licking.

But when they see the savings grow, they become so "all-fired" interested that they equal the pace of the boy in the picture.

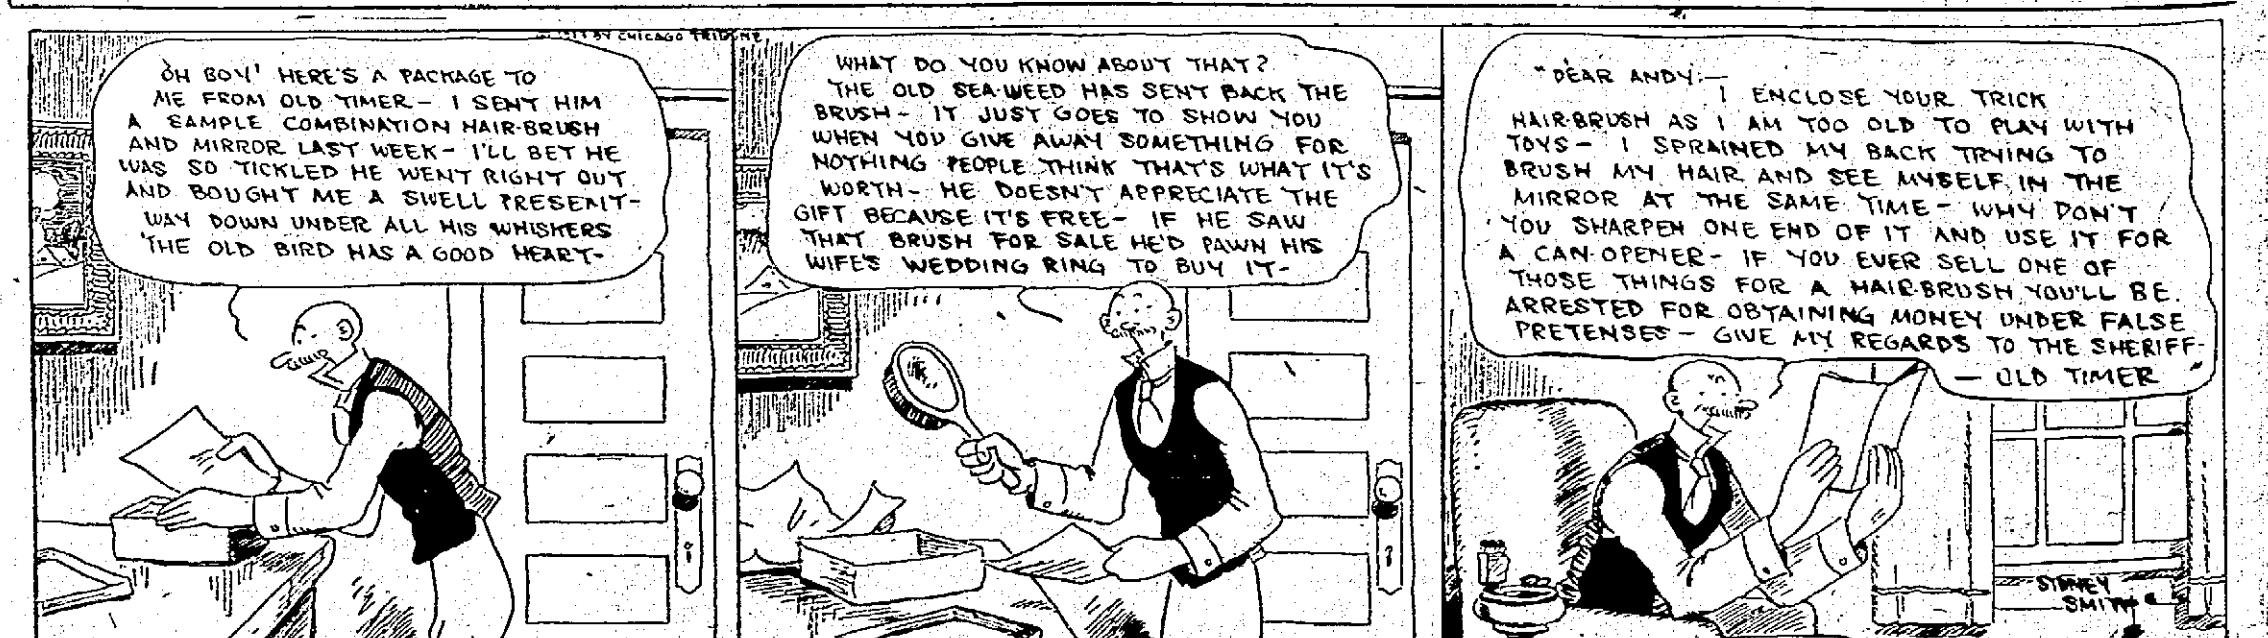

Saving money is like that. It's a great game. It grips hold of you and "does wonders" if you are only lucky enough to make the start.

LETTERS FROM OUR READERS

Editor Portsmouth Times:—
In order that those interested may understand the facts in the case in regard to the exclusion of the North Moreland children from the New Boston schools, a word of explanation may be necessary.

Since North Moreland has been a part of Portsmouth, these children have attended the New Boston schools, their tuition being paid by the Portsmouth Board of Education.

The New Boston Board of Education agreed to school them as long as they were able to accommodate them. The enrollment in September seemed as if New Boston could handle them this year and they were permitted to enter.

However since that time, the enrollment has increased to such an extent that the schools were so much overcrowded, that the exclusion of the children from the first four grades became absolutely necessary.

Notice was given the Portsmouth Board of Education about six weeks ago that such would be the case and that such would be the case and notice was also given that the fifth grade would be transferred to Stanton Avenue, where provision was made for their accommodation. Notice was also given the parents of such children excluded, about ten days before their exclusion.

From this it can be plainly seen that they were not excluded without proper notification as the article in Saturday's papers seemed to indicate.

J. D. Withcott and W. M. McKenzie were Ott's attorneys. Arthur Bannan and Lyle Evans represented the railroad.

Death Claims Two Well-Known Residents of Jackson

Death has claimed another of Jackson's leading citizens.
On Monday George J. Jones departed this life after an illness of several weeks. He had long been a prominent business man of Jackson, being a member of the firm of Cavett and Jones Clothing company. His wife, formerly Miss Mary Lloyd of Centerville passed away about twelve years ago, and he has been both father and mother to his two daughters ever since. The sympathy of their numerous friends go out to these daughters, the Misses Anna Marie and Mildred Jones, as well as to his two surviving sisters, Mrs. Mary Phillips and Mrs. Ellen O. Jones. The funeral services will take place on Thursday afternoon at the home on Broad street. Mr. Jones was 61 years of age.

Another of Jackson's homes is in orrow this for the death of a mother, Mrs. W. P. Fogarty who passed away on Monday evening just at the hour of six. Mrs. Fogarty had been suffering from a severe cold since the last of August, but was not confined to her bed until the past week. Pneumonia was the cause of her death. Mrs. Fogarty, who was 61 years of age leaves to mourn her death her husband W. P. Fogarty, two daughters, Mrs. Sue Roberts and Miss Marie Fogarty, and two sons, Will of Alliance and Howard at home. Her son Will, reached her bedside just before she passed away and he has the satisfaction of knowing that she recognized him. She is survived also by one brother, Dan P. Coll of Jackson. Her sister, Mrs. Anna Grossman, died only a few months ago. The funeral services will be held Thursday at nine o'clock in Holy Trinity church with interment at Olivet cemetery.

VALENTINE PUTS IT UP TO LEWIS

A boxing bout is now under way between Sreak Zip Valentine, of Warren, and Kid Lewis of this city. The fans are sure to get their money's worth when they see these two boys clash, for there is about as much love between these two fighters as there is between two strangers. Lewis calls on a back fence at mid-night. The date has not been set as yet, although the contracts are being made. Valentine says: "If I can't whip Kid Lewis I will hang my gloves up so high that I'll never be able to reach them again." Valentine has said this before, but he has always been able to reach them after he has fought his man, says Kid Lewis. Whadda you say?

No Internal Strife on State Team

The Columbus Dispatch says:—
Are Ohio State football players laying internal dissension? The accusation has been made a number of times this fall. To the few who were with the team in Lafayette such a charge would be a huge joke if it were not for the fact that the athletes smart under such fairy stories. But one incident of the return trip should dissipate all thoughts of trouble. End Gorrell had his ankle so badly injured in the game that Saturday night he could not go to the theater with the rest of his teammates. The three men who stayed with him in the Pullman were his two opponents for the end job, Fiorette and Seifert, along with Dr. Duffy. If there has been any dissension, it all was lost some place between Columbus and Lafayette along with all the poor football Ohio played up until Saturday.

EX-KAISER AT DOORN

DOORN, HOLLAND, November 14.—(By the A. P.)—William, the former German Emperor, goes calmly about his customary tasks at Doorn house, notwithstanding the reports which have gone abroad that he was preparing to depart for the fatherland. It is asserted here that there is no foundation for the report that he and the members of his entourage have been granted passports for a journey to Berlin, or elsewhere in Germany, and those close to him declare that he has no intention of leaving Doorn.

Dr. Kan, of the Dutch ministry of the interior, who had a long conference with the former Emperor yesterday may have had something to do with the announcement that the former was to continue to reside in Holland, for it is believed that the purpose of his visit was to inquire into the ex-Kaiser's position and to reiterate in view of the Crown Prince's hasty departure, the difficulties that might face Holland at the hands of the allies if the head of the house of Doorn followed in his son's footsteps.

Moreover, it is said that the ex-Kaiser is not in good health, and his personal physician who resides in Amsterdam, has been here for some days. The excitement which attended the news of the former Crown Prince's departure, for Germany has not yet subsided, and there is still an air of uncertainty in the precincts of Doorn.

Bavaria Is Quieter.

MUNICH, BAVARIA, Nov. 13.—(By the A. P.)—The situation in Bavaria was considerably more tranquil today. Dr. von Kahr, the dictator, apparently is succeeding in defending his authority in the face of the uncompromising discontent of the followers of Adolf Hitler, who are keeping up desultory political warfare against von Kahr and Gen. von Lossow, commander of the Bavarian Reichswehr.

With Hitler locked up at some unnamed point outside Munich and with Gen. Ludendorff under rigid surveillance, any armed resistance to the Hitlerites is not being looked for at the present time.

Gen. Ludendorff was informally cross-examined by the prosecuting attorney today with regard to his connection with last week's "putsch," although it is stated that neither the Bavarian nor the Central government has given any indication as to its attitude toward the question of indicting the participants in the "putsch."

Ex-Prince Joins Family.

OELS, Nov. 14.—(By the A. P.)—The former German Crown Prince, his wife, Princess Cecilia, and their children made a happy dinner party last night, the first of complete reunion of this branch of the Hohenzollern family, in more than five years.

Frederick William, who traversed the 400 miles from the Dutch border by automobile, drove up to the castle at 9 o'clock. The autumnal dusk had fallen over the hills, and the castle gates were only dimly lighted, so that the small crowd of townspeople who had been waiting all afternoon had but a fleeting glimpse of their newly arrived neighbor.

Frederick William hurried into the inner court, where Princess Cecilia, her two daughters and youngest son were awaiting him, and the party immediately retired to their living quarters. Three automobiles brought the German heir and his followers to Oels, but as they approached the place they took different roads, thus avoiding undue attention; the waiting cameramen lost their customary harvest and there was nothing spectacular about the arrival, which was said to have been completely in keeping with the promise to the German government to avoid ostentatious display during the course of the journey.

Two Millions Idle.

BERLIN, Nov. 14.—A semi-official statement issued today on the unemployment situation gives statistics showing that there are 2,000,000 idle persons in the occupied territory. It is added that if dependents of the unemployed and those persons working on short time were included in the statistics at least one-half of the population of the region would be shown to be unemployed.

In the unoccupied territory 700,000 persons unemployed and 1,500,000 persons working on short time are receiving assistance, while counting those not receiving assistance, it is calculated that more than a third of the total population is out of work.

Crown Prince

The Imperial highnesses received the United Press correspondent at 12:30 in the hunt trophy room of the castle. The Crown Princess Cecilia stood with her arm tucked affectionately through that of Frederick Wilhelm.

"I am very glad indeed that my husband is back," she said.

The manners of both the crown prince and princess were cordial.

The crown prince enjoyed himself hugely today, his second day at home since the German armies crumbled in 1918 and he fled into exile.

He arose late and breakfasted meagerly, lunch being the principal part of his morning meal.

Stories about personal poverty of the Hohenzollern heir are freely circulated in the village.

Much time was spent playing with the children who were eager for attention after having been daddyless since 1918.

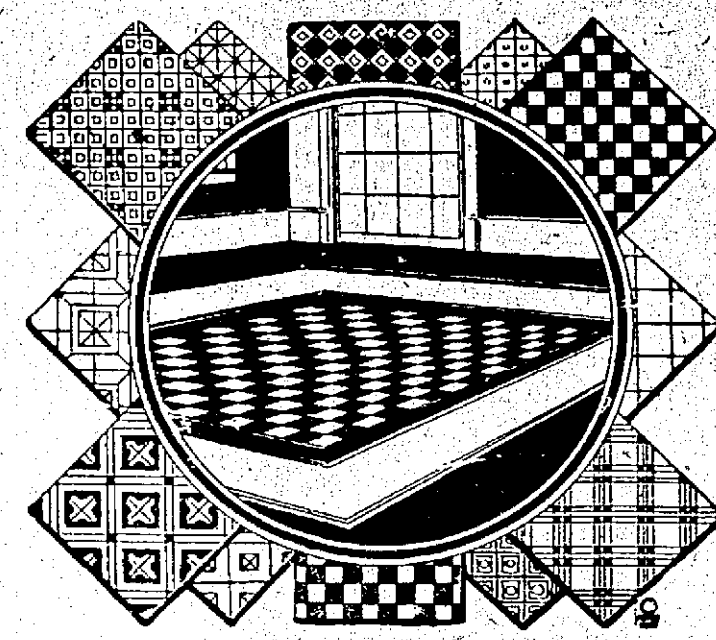

Down in the village the inhabitants went on pleading their weary way, unmindful and unheeding of the royalty that had come into their midst.

In mid-afternoon the former crown prince issued the following statement through his adjutant:

"I am happy to be with my wife and children and with my German compatriots to bear the burdens which have come upon Germany."

"I am happy to see the old place, my friends and my old comrades of the war."

"I intend to devote myself to personal duties and within the realm of my work and duty, co-operate in the rebuilding of the fatherland, in whose elevation I am confident."

one over the mantelpiece. That's an awfully pretty picture, but mine's got color in it."
"Why not in place of the Venus who fell on her nose?" he suggested.
She assented readily and with an air of pride he stood the picture on top of the bookcase.
"I can't thank you enough," he said, taking her hand.

MARY MARGARET CRUTCHES
AT HER SIDE WAS STILL PRAYING.

"You thank me," she reproached.
"You thank me for the picture I put down at her side, where crutches had once stood. They were gone now.
"Oh, Mr. Gilchrist!" she started, and her eyes filled with tears.
"Now, now," he warned, "we mustn't cry on Christmas."
"What are you going to do if you're happy?"

"Try laughing," he said. And she did. "And if I'm having my Christmas now, you better have yours too.
Suppose you rummage on the sofa."
She hurried over and made her way through a score of packages.
There was a book for Miss Levinson, and gifts for a dozen others.

"This one isn't marked," she said,
holding it aloft. "Is it mine?"
"No," he replied, "those are gloves for Mark. I wanted to show I appreciated his bringing back that coat."

Mary Margaret, her crutches at her side, was still praying.
"Mon, felt inert, heavy and there."
"Forgive us, our trespasses—" prayed Mary Margaret.
"Umanaki rose to his feet at the edge of the millling mass. Rage doubled his strength as he flung himself at them.

"They quailed before him. The mass unraveled itself and men and women stank off.
"There on the floor lay the bulk of a man. It was Gilchrist. A thin stream of red trickled down his face.
There was a gully silence.
"—and the power and glory, forever. Amen."

Mary Margaret opened her eyes.
She might have been looking down from that little hill near Golgotha.
She drew herself to her feet and with a mute stare started slowly for the apparently lifeless figure in the center.

A piercing scream halted her.
"Mary Margaret!" cried Miss Levinson. "Where are your crutches?"
The girl looked down in bewilderment at her feet.
"I don't know," she said absently, advancing. Then full realization came to her. "I kin walk. I kin walk," she shouted. She bent over the prostrate figure. "Mr. Gilchrist!"
she cried. "Mr. Gilchrist! She put her arms about him.

Pearl Hennig turned on the mob.
"I told you!" she exclaimed. "I told you he was a saint."
"Umanaki whirled to face them, too.
"You want a sign!" he thundered.
"Look! Down on your knees—you d—murderers," he commanded.
"Gods in this room. Down on your knees!"

Dazed, bewildered, they dropped to their knees. Heads bowed. Here and there trembling hands made the sign of the cross.

CHAPTER XII
Another Christmas Eve
ANOTHER Christmas Eve had come and with it the hush of a hated world, his busy creatures pausing in their pell-mell, some with reverent reason and others merely because a day had been marked red in the calendar.

The glow of dying embers fell upon Gilchrist as he sat in reverie before an open fireplace in his room "upstairs." His eyes dreamily far away as he puffed contentedly on a pipe.
It was a simple, unpretentious room.
Its furnishings were cherry and it was banked with friendly books.

A faint tapping at the door hardly startled him, and before he could turn Mary Margaret had entered fortively. She saw him in the dim light and lustily hid a package behind her back.
"Oh," she exclaimed. "Goodness, you scared me. I thought you went out."

"No," she said. "I came up here to read a little while before we put our gifts on the tree. Where's Grubby?"
He promised to help.
"Grubby's all swelled up with his new taxicab," she said, a little con-fessionally. "Christmas eve's the big night in his business, but he says don't worry—he'll be here in time for the sandwiches. Am I interrupting your reading?"

"Oh, no," he answered, noting her obvious efforts to hide her package.
"What have you there?"
"Where?" Her evasion was childlike.

"Under your apron,"
"I was gonna surprise you," she said. "It's your Christmas present.
It ain't much—an' I didn't want it on the tree—before everybody. I wanted to give it to you myself. Open it now."

He did so, smiling. He held up a picture. Its simple significance less in the blatant colors of a cheap chromo.
"Mary Margaret!"
"The name's on the back," she said.
"See—Mama's Treasure!"
"It's just what I wanted," he said.
"Is it, honest?" she rejoiced in delight. "Let's put it in place of that

Finally she found it—a large box marked with her name. She opened it breathlessly and held up a child's fur set, a muff and neckpiece in her hand.
"Oh, Mr. Gilchrist," she protested feebly. "Oh, you oughtn't." She tried them on and ran to a mirror.
"How beautiful!" she went on rap-tulously. "They're the beautiful-furs I ever saw. I've wanted a set like this always. I never was so happy before in my life."
The tears started again, but he held up an admonitory finger and they turned to laughter.
"I don't know how to thank you,"
she said.

"Don't try," he returned.
She scurried off to show her present to her mother. As she opened the door Mr. Goodkind reached the stairs was landing and entered. Mary Margaret turned toward Gilchrist alarmed and stood by ready to protect him.
"Well, Mr. Goodkind," welcomed
Daniel.
"May I come in?" the visitor asked, meekly.
"Of course," Daniel drew up a chair.
"It's only a moment, Jerry's waiting for me in the car."
"How is Jerry?" Gilchrist inquired solicitously.
"Goodkind was sadly ereing Mary Margaret."
"I wish you could perform a miracle on him," he said, disconsolately.

THE FOOL

BEGIN HERE TO-DAY
Clare Jewett, in love with the Rev.
Daniel Gilchrist, marries Jerry Good-kind for his money. Daniel is dismissed from the fashionable Church of the Nativity in New York because of his radical sermons.

"Overlook Hall," a refuge for the unemployed, is established by Gilchrist. George Goodkind, Jerry's father, calls and orders Daniel to cease seeing Clare, who frequently visits the hall to help Gilchrist.
Clare says she has left Jerry, and Daniel sends her back to him. Clare returns to her husband, Joe Hennig, and his gang break in and threaten Gilchrist. Umanaki meets the mad gang.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.
"That's it," he said. "Don't let this guy buffalo you. Come on, let's give him out." Hennig came close to Gilchrist. "I told you I'd get you," he sneered. The mob pressed closer. Umanaki placed his bulk in front of them. They were fast closing in on him.

"Listen to me," commanded a voice. It was Goodkind, who had forced his way through to face them.
"No violence. I'm dealing with a lunatic. I've got a doctor coming down here. Leave it to me and I'll have this place closed to-night."

The mob was becoming more restless, moving closer.
"TIED, NERVOUS MOTHERS
are the direct cause of much unhappiness in our homes; their condition irritated and wears upon the husband and often ruins a child's disposition.
This condition of the mother is often due to some weakness which makes her entirely unfit to perform her household duties and bear the strain upon her nerves that governing children involves. Every woman who finds herself in this condition should remember that statistics prove that 98 out of every 100 women who suffer from female ills are helped by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and lose no

Kentuckians Speculate Over Manner In Which Fields Will Hand Out Plums

LOUISVILLE, KY., Nov. 14.—Among appointments which political prognosticators think Governor-elect William L. Fields is likely to make when he begins "house-cleaning" at Frankfort is that of W. C. Montgomery of Elizabethtown, as chairman of the State Highway Commission.

Mr. Montgomery's appointment was pledged during the campaign.

It also is considered likely that Mr. Fields will name as his personal secretary his son, Forrest Fields, who has served as his secretary in Congress. James H. Brown was mentioned by Mr. Fields during his campaign for the State Tax Commission, a $3,600 position, which it never was considered likely the president of the National Bank of Kentucky would accept.

The Governor also has the appointment of the Workmen's Compensation Board, at $2,500 a year for each member, other members of the Road Commission and of the State Board of Agriculture.

Cuticura Heals Face Affected With Itchy Pimples

"My face was affected with pimples which later broke out all over my body and between my fingers. The pimples itched and I scratched them, which caused large, raw eruptions. At night I could hardly sleep on account of the itching and burning, and I could hardly stand to have my clothes touch me. The trouble lasted about half a year. I tried everything I could think of but nothing did any good. I began using Cuticura Soap and Ointment and soon found relief. I continued using them and in about a month I was completely healed." Pinchot Calls Parley Of Anthracite Consuming States

HARRISBURG, Pa., November 14.—Gov. Pinchot today sent letters to the governors of 20 anthracite-consuming states inviting them to a conference here November 28 to consider a program of Federal legislation designed to reduce coal prices.

Declaring justice to the great body of anthracite consumers must be reached mainly by national action, the Governor said, such action could be secured "most certainly and effectively" if the governors of the anthracite-consuming states unite in a "single specific program." He said he was prepared to submit a suggestion for such a program and invited the governors here to consider it and if it is found practicable to agree upon a definite plan of legislation to be laid before Congress at the coming session.

"Since the coal strike was settled in September I have taken up the question of price in a series of conferences with the members of a committee of the operators," the Governor wrote. "On Friday last, this committee finally declined to recommend to the coal industry that it should clean its own house of extortion, as I have been urging it to do."

Feed Python Live Pig

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., November 14.—(By the Associated Press).—A giant python at the Philadelphia zoo has gone eight months without food because it will take nothing but a live animal. Keepers have refrained from feeding the serpent through fear that the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals might object. This fear has been dispelled and next week the python will be fed a live pig, weighing fifty pounds.

The keeper appealed to Frank B. Rutherford, manager of the Pennsylvania S. P. C. A., who said "The snake must be fed, no matter how. While it may be cruelty to let the pig suffer such a death, it is far more cruel to let the serpent expire from starvation."

Rutherford declared the pig would suffer a humane death. "When the porker is put into the reptile's cage, there is only a sudden spring, a flash of coils, and the pig's life is extinct in an instant," he said.

Coolidge

bodied. There would be no doubt about this, of course, if France, Italy and the other European powers who owe America vast sums would only begin paying interest on the war debt. Mr. Mellon is of the opinion that if the country wants a bonus for the able-bodied there must be an increase instead of decrease in taxation and he isn't expecting any money from the European debtors.

Politically, Mr. Mellon's suggestions have begun to overshadow all other issues including the World Court and the participation of the United States in European affairs.

Taxes present an issue that can be thoroughly understood by millions of voters. For Mr. Mellon has offered a concrete saving to the seven million persons and corporations who have handed in tax returns in previous years.

Much will depend, of course, on what procedure is adopted in Congress. If the tax bill should give right of way, its passage would have an important effect on bonus legislation later on. Reports lately from American Legion quarters have been to the effect that the Legion would concentrate its attention first on the revision of the present laws relating to the management of the Veterans' Bureau, an investigation of which by a Senatorial committee now is in progress. Congress as a rule makes its own rules of priority and until the members responsible for the situation will not become clear.

Mr. Mellon selected the present as an opportune moment to project his ideas before the American people, because members of Congress are all "back home" getting in touch with their constituents. They will have an opportunity to judge at first hand the proposals. Mr. Coolidge would like to see the Mellon plan taken up and acted upon subject of course to the many changes which are inevitable when Congress begins dealing with revenue measure.

Mr. Mellon has an opportunity to indicate the general principles of tax revision: his predecessor, Mr. Harding, was very much impressed with the benefits that might be derived and leaned toward tax revision, but hesitated because of the political difficulties involved in trying to revise the tax bill with Congress in which the radicals hold the balance of power. If all depends therefore on the will of the country, the politicians sense an opinion favorable to the Mellon idea, they will go to tax revision at once. The next two weeks may cast the die for the next campaign by furnishing the paragon issue.

Senator Johnson Dodges Questions As To Conference

CHICAGO, Nov. 14.—Weather and the natural scenic beauties of Chicago were the announced topics of conversation between Senator Hiram Johnson of California, stopping in Chicago for a few days, and several Republican leaders, including John C. Adams and Fred W. Upham, chairman and treasurer of the Republican National Committee, in their conferences today.

Talking to newspapermen tonight, Senator Johnson dodged the questions put to him, admitting that he conferred with Mr. Adams and Mr. Upham, but denied the conversations were of a political nature.

He also admitted that several party leaders from Ohio and Indiana had taken part in the "conversation" and even went so far as to say that the present political situations in those states "might" have been taken up.

Senator Johnson said he "didn't know what he would do" when asked if reports were true that he would announce himself a candidate for the presidency during his stay in Chicago.

Zev on Way

BALTIMORE, Md., Nov. 14.—Zev, Harry F. Sinclair's candidate for the American three-year-old championship, will be shipped from Pimlico to Churchill Downs today for Saturday's match race with Carl Wiedmann's thoroughbred in Memorial, it was learned today.

Sam Hildreth, Zev's trainer, declared the horse was in excellent condition. With more time to work out for this race than for the Latonia championship, Hildreth is confident that the result of Saturday's match will be reversed.

To Enter Plea Of Insanity

ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 14.—"Demented" insanity is expected to be the plea of Philip E. Fox, Klan publicity man, when he goes on trial next month for the slaying of Capt. W. S. Curnutt, Klan attorney.

Counsel for Fox and his physician today declared they had no doubt that Fox was insane when he shot Curnutt here a week ago and the physician, Dr. Linton Smith, expressed his belief that the prisoner still is mentally unbalanced. It was learned also that the solicitor general is preparing the state's case with the expectancy of an insanity plea being made by Fox.

A grand warrant sworn out several days ago against Imperial Wizard H. W. Evans, was dismissed today at the request of Dr. Fred R. Johnston, chief of staff to Empress Simmons. He asked the dismissal in the interest of all concerned. When he obtained the warrants for Evans and three of his aides, Johnston asserted that he had reason to fear for his life and the lives of other Klan officials.

Probe Murder Of Woman

PHOENIX, ARIZONA, Nov. 14.—A coroner's jury today began an inquiry into the mysterious circumstance surrounding the death here early this morning of Mrs. George Boudreau of Bickart, Ind., Mrs. Boudreau was beaten to death and her body buried from the roof of a school, according to the police.

Dragged more than 50 feet by her assailant from a sidewalk while walking home from a dance hall where she was employed, Mrs. Boudreau evidently fought frantically to save herself. Investigators stated a single clue—a man's plain cuff button, was lost by the slayer.

An unidentified man with whom Mrs. Boudreau is said to have refused to dance is under suspicion, it was stated.

Mrs. Boudreau, who was about 42 years old and the mother of two children, came here recently for her health. Her husband and one son son Orval, 12, came here with his mother.

German Government May Abandon Ruhr States

BERLIN, November 14. (By the A. P.)—After permitting to go unchanged throughout the day reports to the effect that the German government was about to proclaim an autonomous Rhineland and Ruhr states within the German federation, an official communication issued today, threw a strange light upon a secret conference which was in progress at the Chancellery all day. At the conference President Ebert and Chancellor Stresemann and others of the cabinet discussed at great length with the premiers of the federated states and a committee comprising Ruhr and Rhineland leaders the question of liquidating the economic chaos of the occupied zones.

By indirectness the German government in its statement virtually admits its inability to "support" the Ruhr and Rhineland any longer, and today's action is considered as having resolved itself into an abandonment of those territories and leaving their populations to their own fate and at the mercy of the occupying powers.

The statement lays stress on the catastrophic social conditions resulting from increasing unemployment in all lines and the general chaos which was followed in the wake of the abandonment of passive resistance and the subsequent inability to arrive at a working understanding with the occupying powers with respect to a resumption of industrial activities and the reinstatement of the German official civil service employees.

The German government declines to discuss the question of an autonomous state. It declares that this is an issue which is wholly determined through the application of paragraph 18 of the federal constitution and that the question of such state has no present bearing on the situation in the Ruhr and the Rhineland. The statement issued tonight says:

"With regard to many reports abroad that an autonomous Rhineland was to be proclaimed with the consent of the imperial government, it is stated in authoritative circles that the imperial government maintains its attitude that no discussion is possible with regard to alterations in the legal relations of the Rhineland and the Ruhr to the Reich."

The imperial government will never take any step which might lead to the liquidation of the Rhineland and will not sanction the proclamation of a Rhineland republic. The only authority for any alterations in the relations of the Rhineland to the Reich is the constitution of the Reich."

To Punish Rebels.
BERLIN, Nov. 14.—It is reported from Munich that the public prosecutor of the Supreme Court at Leipzig has received instructions from the Central government to institute proceedings against the participants in the "Nationalist" march at Munich on charges of high treason.

The Bavarian government, it is added, had already decided that the rebels should be dealt with by a special court at Munich.

Spent Night In Lifeboat
LEWES, DEL., November 14.—Exhausted and half-frozen, Capt. Henry C. Riggs, of the coal barge City of Orleans, and four of his crew, reached shore today after a stormy night in a lifeboat, tied to the side of the sinking barge.

Earlier in the day survivors brought word of the foundering of the barge Marion O'Boyle with the loss of three lives. The survivors floated ashore on wreckage. The City of Orleans, Marion O'Boyle and a third barge, the Druid Hill, were being towed from Norfolk, Va., to Providence, R. I. The Druid Hill managed to weather the storm.

The City of Orleans got off her tow rope and dropped anchor yesterday 15 miles off Cape Henlopen when the heavy seas began to maul her. Shortly after the barge sprang a leak and at midnight there was 12 feet of water in the hold. Capt. Riggs, fearing the craft would sink, ordered the crew into the lifeboat and gave it enough rope to keep it from smashing against the barge.

The sea was too rough to attempt to pull for land in the dark, so they rode all night in the storm.

Those in the boat with the skipper were Joseph Avery, Boston; Martin Jonhan, Norway; Floyd Riggs, a brother of Capt. Riggs, and John T. James, Trinidad, a negro cook. The men took turns at the sweeps to keep the boat straightened out and free from the barge. At the first glimpse of dawn, they pulled for shore leaving the barge with its 200 tons of coal low in the water, but still afloat.

Pythian Homecoming Big Success

More than 150 members, their families and friends were in attendance at the homecoming held last night by the Pythian lodge, Knights of Pythias, at the meeting being an unqualified success.

A splendid program was given for the entertainment of the large number present. County Deputy Wells, who is now a missionary in China, was the featured speaker. The address of the evening was delivered by Rev. G. Monroe Hoyer, pastor of Central Presbyterian church, who spoke on "Some Principles of Pythianism."

To the needs, the civic welfare of your community, your duty as a good lodge member directs you, as well as to the interests and activities of the organization to which you belong," Rev. Hoyer said.

Applause followed Rev. Hoyer's remarks, which were greatly appreciated. Rev. Hoyer is an interesting speaker and never fails to command the attention of his listeners.

Other numbers on the program included the singing of "America" by the entire assembly, selection by the Serenaders' Quartet, composed of C. C. Bennett, J. E. Lodwick, Elmer Fetter and Talmadge Edwards, rendered by Miss Dorothy Cline and a solo by Miss Esther Gulliver.

Refreshments consisting of sandwiches, doughnuts, and coffee were served at the close of the program.

Amos For was chairman of the evening's meeting. The Pythian committee in charge of plans for the homecoming included Floyd Johnson, Frank Cramer and Lou Stelling.

Next Tuesday the lodge will hold its "Knights Special" meeting, as a follow-up to the homecoming last night, which it is hoped gave a boost to lodge activities.

On the Mend

Raymond Estel, who is employed in the Ever-Est Restaurant, on Second street, is recovering from injuries he suffered Sunday when he slipped in an automobile accident near Hamden. Several other occupants of the car in which he was riding also were injured.

Hamden Woman Bitten By Dog

Mrs. William West, well-known Hamden resident, was severely bitten by a vicious dog yesterday. The animal fastened his teeth in the calf of the right leg and held on until he was beaten off by onlookers who came to Mrs. West's aid.

The dog was killed and the head sent to Columbus for examination for rabies.

Dr. J. Y. Willis was called to dress the badly lacerated member.

West is known in Portsmouth as she has visited relatives here.

Superintendent J. R. Hawk has returned from a business trip to Oak Hill.

Dokies to Plan For Ceremonial

Every member of Moccasin Temple, D. O. K. K., is urged to be present at the regular meeting of the order to-night when final plans will be adopted for the big ceremonial to be held at the home of Mrs. J. W. Patterson, on Tuesday evening, November 20, at the home of Miss Hazel Davis.

The degree work will also be held to-night.

Prowlers Busy In Waverly

Waverly, Nov. 14.—Two men were seen prowling around homes in the south part of town last night between six and seven o'clock. They were seen at the residence of C. W. Nelson and at the home of Tom Clark. However, no houses were entered and when a search was made no trace was found of the prowlers. Perhaps it was the same parties that entered the home of James R. Hibbins last Friday. It is said that the two men seen at Nelson's were negroes.

Supper Is Success

Waverly, Ohio, Nov. 14.—The supper given by Lansing Lodge, I. O. O. F., at their hall here Monday night, was a splendid success, there being about 200 members and their guests in attendance.

The supper itself was sufficient reason for anyone being present, while the social time which followed was equally enjoyable. A concert by the Waverly orchestra, which included a vocal solo by Rev. George L. Pake and a saxophone solo by Miss Jean Johnson, was a delightful feature of the program.

Dr. J. E. Willis was master of ceremonies and gave an interesting talk. Other speakers were Rev. A. M. McCullough, of Greenbaum, of Chillicothe, Rupt. Floyd Deacon and Rev. George L. Pake.

Kentucky Banker Takes His Life

PADUCAH, KY., Nov. 13.—Frank N. Fisher, president of the Ohio Valley Bank Trust Company, which closed its doors following an announcement of insolvency, last week shot and killed himself at his home near early Tuesday. Mr. Fisher was said to have been deeply despondent following the failure of the bank and according to close friends had spoken of ending his life on several occasions.

Death Claims James Quirk

James Quirk, aged 65, expert granite-cutter and granite worker, for many years a highly regarded resident of this city, passed away at the home of a sister in Ottawa, Ill., news of his death being conveyed to local friends Wednesday. He left Portsmouth four months ago, and his death was attributed to Bright's disease.

Mr. Quirk was a genius in his line and some of the most imposing monuments in Greenlawn cemetery stand as monuments of his skill. He just recently completed the Burke-Buch and York monuments in Greenlawn and was the designer and builder of the Sternberger monument in the Jackson, O., cemetery.

Mr. Quirk while here resided for years at Third and Ottawa streets, for the past two years had resided in the St. Clair hotel, Waller street.

Jim Quirk, as he was familiarly known to countless friends, here, was affable and congenial at all times and the passing away of this good citizen will be learned of with much regret. He was ever a loyal booster of Portsmouth, a devout member of the Holy Redeemer church, and a successful business man. He was an intimate friend of John James and Edward Kelley of this city, and they keenly feel the loss of a warm-hearted and ever a considerate and sympathetic friend.

Funeral services were conducted from the St. Francis church in Ottawawa and burial took place in the St. Francis cemetery there.

Whoopie, Listen To Claims By Trainer

OF Kentucky Horse

LOUISVILLE, KY., Nov. 14.—Hob Gilmore, trainer of the Memorial Card Widenman's three-year-old, recent victor over Zev in the Latonia championship, has been satisfied so far this week in giving his charge only gallop exercise and has not asked him for speed in preparation for another match with the Eastern horse at Churchill Downs Saturday.

After in Memorial had galloped a mile in 1:43 3/5, with a heavy stable boy on him, Gilmore said the large gelding was in the best condition of his career and he had no fears but that he would again prove Zev's master.

"I honestly believe in Memorial can beat Zev from one quarter of a mile to as far as horses can run," Gilmore said, after the workout.

Should Zev win the match race Saturday, he will have won more than $300,000 during his racing career, placing him at the top rung of the racing ladder.

Memorial, who has won all three of his races, will have set up a nice figure, providing he should return the winner, as he would have earned over $100,000 and his price would be enhanced many times as a stock horse after his racing days are over.

Profiteering Finds Hard Sledding For Chicago-Ohio Game

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Nov. 14.—With tickets for the Chicago-Ohio State football game, November 17 at Chicago mostly spoken for, every precaution is being made to prevent the tickets from falling into the hands of speculators. Officials of the two athletic departments are working together to make sure that tickets do not fall into the hands of profiteers. Tickets of $100 each, have been required to sign what virtually amounts to a contract to the effect that the tickets will not be resold at a higher price. Furthermore, every purchaser is required to affirm, in writing, that he will personally use at least one of the tickets. Purchasers, moreover, are limited to four tickets. Students are restricted to one ticket. Sale of the tickets here is limited to Ohio State alumni. Stadium subscribers and known Ohio State supporters.

Going on this basis, Chicago officials have informed Henry D. Taylor, Ohio State ticket dispenser, that the agreed basis of tickets here will form the basis of a legal notice which will enable the University of Chicago to refuse admission at the gates to any person presenting a ticket which bears evidence of scalping. Both of these are keeping records as to where each ticket for the Chicago-Ohio State game is being disposed of.

Funny how a warm day is better effects everybody.

It was warm in Portsmouth afternoon. Winter wraps were heavy and spring coats were used. In the office building enterprising stenographer thought was time for spring housecoat and we caught her washing the office ink well. In noon dark haired young man "spoofing" a pretty secretary in the office. The driver of the dump wagon was afflicted with drowsy spell and drove up the street allowing a street powdered cement to sprinkle thickly from a six inch hole bottom of his bucket. The driver of the office truck thought it was time to turn tomorrow. We wait to go hunting.

CHICAGO, November 14.—(By the Associated Press.)—A birth control clinic, it permitted to operate, might result in injury to the public health and public morals, according to an answer filed by Mayor W. E. Dewey and Health Commissioner Herman N. Rundenen in circuit court where a petition to compel the city to issue licenses for a birth control clinic was recently filed by a group of Chicago society women.

Mrs. Helen G. Carpenter and others seeking to establish the clinic, were seeking to court action until they were refused a license by the health commissioner. The city's demurrer that the women had not complied with the law in detailing the methods they proposed to advocate was overruled.

Disastrous results to the welfare and morals of the community would result from the dissemination of information in public to married people, the mayor and health commissioner assert in their answer. Such knowledge, coming to the attention of unmarried people would encourage immorality, the city officials contend.

The provisions of the new law make it the duty of the sheriff of the several counties of the state, the chiefs of police and marshals of villages immediately upon the arrest of any person for any felony to take his finger prints for the files of the Ohio State Bureau of Identification, created by the act.

Child, Match, Lost Penny, Fire

Fire thought to have been caused by a little girl of the household dropping a partially burned match on the floor while looking under the bed for a lost penny, caused considerable damage in a bedroom at the T. H. Lester home, 4037 Rhodes avenue, New Boston, about 9:30 o'clock this morning. New Boston firemen confined the flames to the one room.

Mr. Lester was busy in a grocery in the front part of the one story frame structure, and Mrs. Lester was busy in the kitchen of the home when a next-door neighbor, Mrs. Ed Martu, discovered smoke coming from the bedroom. She ran to the store and informed Mrs. Lester of the fire.

It had galloped much headway before it was discovered, and in addition to destroying bed clothes, damaged the curtains, carpet, interior woodwork and some wearing apparel. The fire started under the head of the bed, and later it was learned that a little girl of the home had been looking for a penny that dropped on the floor and rolled under the head of the bed. She used a match and is thought to have dropped some of the burning match on the floor.

was introduced to Mortimer. He denied that Mrs. Mortimer was at the bureau on Sunday morning, saying she was there to visit a woman employee.

He said he became "fairly intimate" with the Mortimers and found them agreeable companions.

Coming then to the famous Pacific coast trip with them in the summer of 1922, Forbes said it was Mortimer who suggested that he and Mrs. Mortimer accompany the Forbes party to the west, as Mortimer never had been to that section.

"I stated that there would be a lot of men in the party," the witness continued, "but that I did not see any objection to their going if they desired."

Forbes said there had been no conversation with Mortimer about expenses of the trip.

"Why did you stop at Chicago?" asked Mr. Eashy-Smith.

"To inspect the speedy hospital and to visit patients in the marine hospital," was the reply.

"The witness said he met J. W. Thompson at Chicago, but not by prearrangement. Before that he had seen him in Washington, Thompson having called on him in connection with a claim against the government growing out of a seizure of a ship."

Denies Loan
Forbes testified as to the arrangement of the rooms of his official party at the Drake Hotel, where Mortimer claims he loaned Forbes $5,000 in the form of ten $500 bills.

"Up to that time," Forbes said, "Mortimer had been talking about contracts. But I never gave him any encouragement," he added.

Questioned about Mortimer's claims that he had paid Forbes bill at the Ritz-Carlton Hotel in Philadelphia, Forbes said the reverse was the case, that he paid $27.50 for Mortimer. He explained that he was not well and had asked Mortimer where he could spend a quiet week-end. Mortimer suggested the Ritz-Carlton. Forbes denied that he attended any party there. He said he retired early. Later, he continued, a man came to his room and said the party had left without paying a bill of $27.50.

"I paid the bill," the witness said. "It seems Mortimer had left the hotel for a short time and they were anxious about the bill."

Never Accepted a Penny
The witness then made emphatic denial that he had ever accepted a penny from Mortimer.

"The quantities were excessive," Forbes said.

Taking up the purchase of Exhilar Springs, Mo., hospital site from E. L. Morse, prominent in Missouri Republican politics, Forbes said there had been a definite commitment by the treasury department to purchase the property and establish a hospital.

Says It's False
Representatives in congress came to me and explained the situation," he continued. "In turn discussed it at the White House."

The witness characterized as "absolutely false" the testimony of Mortimer that the Thompson-Black Company, of Chicago, which Mortimer said he represented, was furnished with a "confidential" list of proposed sites for hospitals so it could select the one on which it preferred to bid. Questioned about his relations with Mr. and Mrs. Mortimer, Forbes said he met Mrs. Mortimer first at the Veterans' Bureau and soon afterward

Cleveland Makes Bid For National Convention Meet

CLEVELAND, OHIO, Nov. 13.—Congressman Theodore E. Burton left here last night for Washington armed with definite assurance that the $125,000 necessary to bring the Republican National Convention to Cleveland will be raised. Mr. Burton will appear before the subcommittee of the Republican National Committee Thursday morning to urge Cleveland's claims for preference.

Not only is the entire fund as good as pledged, but many of the split individuals have offered their further aid in underwriting the city's expenses, Mr. Burton said.

He will be joined in Washington by Col. Carmel A. Thompson and Fred H. Caley, secretary of the Cleveland Automobile Club, who will represent the Civic organizations. Thad. H. Brown, Secretary of State, telegraphed Mr. Burton from Columbus that he also will be on hand.

Calts House Chooses
WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—Republican members of the House of the Sixty-eighth Congress have been called by Representative Wood of Indiana, chairman of the Republican Congressional Committee to meet in caucus December 1 to take up matters of organization. Mr. Wood said today that he had issued the call because Representative Mondell of Wyoming, Republican leader in the last House, and other party leaders upon whom the task normally would devolve would not be members of the next Congress.

Amundsen At Home, Travels On Alias; Plans Dash To Pole

CHRISTIANA, November 13.—Capt. Roald Amundsen arrived here unexpectedly yesterday to make preparations for his airplane expedition to the North Pole next July. The last time he came home he traveled under the assumed name of Johnson and wore a false beard and spectacles. This time he arrived as Engelbert Graving.

Discussing his plans for the flight and his acceptance of the assistance of an American naval officer, Capt. Amundsen said he hoped to defray the cost of the trip in part at least through a special issue of Norwegian stamps. He also hoped to get some American money but would not ask the Christiania government for financial support. He said that if he were unable to raise the money he must abandon the expedition as he had no more to invest himself.

Jurors Visit Scene Of Triple Tragedy

OTTAWA, OHIO, Nov. 13.—Charles Shank, alleged slayer of Mrs. William Tenewalde, 38, wife of a Putnam county farmer, her daughter, Olivia, 18, and the latter's cousin, Lawrence Tenewalde, 20, was taken back to the scene of the triple crime today to view it with the jurors who will try him for the mother's death.

One woman and 11 men were picked for the jury, with another woman as alternate. A juror should serve as alternate if a juror should fall ill.

The entire jury, with the lawyers and the defendant then visited the scene of the killing, three miles from the village of Kalida.

Taking of testimony will begin tomorrow.

Cleared of Murder Charge

BELLEFONTAINE, O., Nov. 13.—The "unwritten law" that a man may defend the sanctity of his home even at the expense of the neighbor's life won for Duff Lakeview farmer, his freedom today.

It took a jury of 12 men just an hour and 20 minutes to acquit Duff of the murder of Ora Van Horn, Lakeview farmer.

Although Mrs. Duff took the stand in her husband's defense and bare her relations with Van Horn and other men, the most remarkable twist was given the case today when Duff, testifying for himself, said he consulted Van Horn about what to do about men calling on his wife, and Van Horn advised him to shoot.

He said, Duff testified, "that if any man would come about his premises in any affairs with his wife he would shoot him."

And so, Duff testified, he hit in the barn, saw Van Horn take his wife out riding, and a few nights later when the affair was repeated, followed Van Horn's advice and killed him.

Mother's Sad Plight

KENTON, O., Nov. 13.—Mrs. Ida Phillips, 72, mother of 10 children, was forced to take the stand today, an unwilling witness, and tell the story by which the state hopes to send her youngest child, Charles Phillips, to the electric chair.

Phillips is on trial for the murder of his brother-in-law, Claude Hunt, at the home of Mrs. Phillips, in Ada, last August.

The mother, who was the only eyewitness of the killing, tried to soften the story against her son, but the state forced her to confirm damaging admissions in her preliminary stories before the coroner's jury and the lower court.

Three women and nine men composed the jury.

Four Persons Killed In Auto-Train Crash; Another Is Injured

HUDSON, N. Y., Nov. 13.—Four persons were killed and one was injured, probably fatally, when an automobile was struck by a fast New York Central train at Mountandale Crossing, near here, late today. The dead are:

Fred Whiteman, farmer, Philmont; Mrs. Miller, his housekeeper; Mrs. Miller's 5-year-old daughter; and Mrs. Asbury Dingman, Mellenville.

Asbury Dingman was brought to the hospital here in a serious condition and physicians said tonight they doubted if he would recover.

Witnesses said that Whiteman drove the car around the sharp curve and on to the tracks before the approaching train, apparently without seeing it.

A legislative subcommittee of the union officials, headed by D. B. Robertson, chief of the Brotherhood of Firemen and Engineers, had prepared a tentative report for submission and action by the larger gathering. Sessions were held in the office of W. J. Johnson, president of the International Association of Machinists and one of the participants.

The chief proposal prepared for the consideration of union officials involves a change in the labor sections of the present transportation act which would virtually abolish the railroad labor board.

As tentatively worked out and approved by some members of the group, the proposed amendments to the transportation act would set up a board of mediation and conciliation to function in railroad labor disputes, on which the roads and the railroad organizations would be equally represented.

Renew Drive On Saloons

PHILADELPHIA, PA., November 14.—(By the Associated Press)—Encouraged by their victory in Federal court yesterday when Judge Thompson upheld the legality of the prohibition laws, state and government officials were preparing today to institute similar proceedings against a number of Philadelphia saloons.

Judge Thompson's decision was in the case of six Schuylkill county saloons, three of which were ordered padlocked for one year and the others enjoined from further violations of the prohibition laws.

Another move in the effort to dry up a host of beer was also made here yesterday, prepared by the department of justice at Washington, were filed in the federal district court authorizing the United States marshal to confiscate property used in twenty breweries in this city and in state cities.

Stone, grand chief of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, heads of sixteen railroad labor organizations took up for discussion legislative proposals for which they may ask consideration at the coming session of congress.

A legislative subcommittee of the union officials, headed by D. B. Robertson, chief of the Brotherhood of Firemen and Engineers, had prepared a tentative report for submission and action by the larger gathering. Sessions were held in the office of W. J. McGraw Plans To Rebuild Giants

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—The past season of Dave Bancroft, Casey Stengel and Bill Cuninghame from the Giant roster and the acquisition by that team of Billy Southworth and Joe DeSchager, is construed by baseball fans as the opening move by Manager John McGraw toward almost complete reconstruction of the New York National League club. If such it proves, it will mark the fourth time in McGraw's twenty-one years as Giant manager that he has so overhauled his organization, as each earlier effort ultimately brought National League pennants to New York, followers of the game will watch with interest his every move from now until the start of the 1924 campaign.

How extensive will be this year's remodeling is unknown. McGraw has been quoted as saying he is prepared to trade all his 1923 players except Frankie Frisch, Ross Young and Travis Jackson, but whether the trades offered by other clubs will prove acceptable remains a question.

McGraw's present effort in this direction is unique in that it marks the first time in baseball history that a manager has sought to break up a little winning combination of one year in an effort to build a title winning combination for the next season.

The present deal with the Braves incidentally emphasizes the peculiar fate of world's series heroes, for Ray Siegel, who goes to Boston, was the outstanding hero of the Giants during the recent world's championship games.

of which has played a tie game. The Syracuse-Colgate game will serve as a basis of comparison of the claims of Syracuse and Cornell for top honors.

Pennsylvania meets Penn State and Washington and Jefferson clashes with Pittsburgh.

To date Washington and Jefferson has somewhat the better record with five victories, no defeats and one tie. Penn State with five victories, one defeat and one tie, is next in order.

Returns Home
Mrs. Charles Williams of Mt. Joy, who had been ill with blood poisoning at the home of her sister, Mrs. R. E. Waldo of Nanvoo, is much improved and has returned home.

CHICAGO, Nov. 14.—Upon the ability of Coach Yost to develop a quarterback who can replace Irvin Uteritz, who is out with a broken leg, depends in a large measure the outcome of the Michigan-Wisconsin football games Saturday. The Wolverines must win that game and then overcome Minnesota on November 24 to hold a claim to the Western Conference title.

Coach Ryan's Badgers are showing a fight in scrimmage that indicates a stiff contest against Michigan. The Badger regulars are all in good condition. Michigan, without the service of Uteritz, is depending upon Parker and Rockwell, both in their first year of conference competition.

Minnesota is on edge for the Saturday game against Iowa. The contest will determine whether Coach Spaulding's eleven can star in the running for the championship. Iowa's team will be the strongest it has put on the field this season, according to reports from the university.

The success Chicago displayed with its forward pass attack against Indiana last week is causing observers to predict that the Chicago-Ohio State contest Saturday will provide an excellent aerial display. Ohio also has been concentrating on a forward passing attack.

Northwestern, in practice scrimmages, preparatory to the Purdue game at Lafayette Saturday, fails to show any great strength.

Prof. Eccles was the only member of the Faculty team to show up last night for the match between the Tigers and Faculty. A leaky water pipe flooded the old gym and the games were transferred to the new gym. Probably the Faculty team members could not find the new gym. Prof. Eccles picked up several players and gave the Tigers a hard fight. The Tigers won the first two games the first one going 21-20, while they annexed the second 21-15. The Faculty won the third one 13-21.

The lineup:
Tigers—Horr, Baker, Tatman, Askins, G. Williams, F. Williams.

The Busy Men, with Charles Howland and several other new faces in the lineup found the Ministers "white meat" when they clashed for three games. The Busy Men won the first game 21-10 and then in the second only allowed the preachers 1 point. In the third game the score was 21-3. The Ministers need bolstering and Captain Culberson is casting about for volunteer orators who are willing to get in the game and play. The lineup:

THE QUESTION
In the game between Princeton and Chicago last year, I saw for the first time a player lose a forward pass from behind his own goal line. Princeton was hard pressed and appeared badly beaten at the time, but finally won the game, 21 to 18. When a Princeton player dropped back of his own goal line, a punt appeared to be correct play and he seemed all set to make it. Then came the surprise, a forward pass, that was caught by a Princeton player, resulting in a 40-yard gain, as much as the punt would have netted, and still retained possession of the ball. Recently I saw the same play pulled, except in a more spectacular manner. The pass struck the goal post and on the rebound was caught by a player eligible to receive the pass. Would such a play be legal?

THE ANSWER
The referee would be correct in considering such a play legal. The goal post must be considered part of the game. Contact with the post naturally changed the course of the ball and considerably altered the entire play. However, the ball did not come into contact with the ground, and since it was recovered by an eligible player, whatever happens must be considered legal.
